the Old Bible was in his possession. He being the 7th descendant from Thomas Cubler, the first of one Cubler line, and 6th owner of the Old Bible. In the year 1905 (or then) the record from which this copy was taken (which was to permitted, from a copy by Edward F. Cubler, of Henrietta Cubler Fuhrig, his niece) Edward F. Cubler had given the Old Bible to his son Irving Cubler, 8th descendant from Thomas Cubler, first of this line, and 6th owner of the Old Bible. Irving Cubler at that time resided, and probably still resides, in Red Bank, New Jersey.

There is a tradition among the descendants of Thomas Oakley[2] died 1707, that two brothers by the name of Oakley, sailed from England. Their ship was captured by Capt. Kidd who gave them the choice of "walking the plank" or of being pirates with him. They chose to be pirates with a hope of escape. When Capt. Kidd came into Long Island Sound he sent the two brothers ashore for water; they escaped. One remained on Long Island and the other went to Connecticut. So much for tradition which is partially correct if that two brothers named Oakley set sail for America and their ship was captured by pirates. See following letter. "It is a letter of Capt Bonhadoes to the Governor of Road Island about Pirates".

[1] The will of Daniel Whitehead of Jamaica, L.I. made 1703, names his "brother Thomas Oakley" and his daughter Mary, widow of Thomas Burroughs. [2] In 1705 a Thomas Oakley, married to Elizabeth Burroughs, this was very probably Thomas Oakley[3] as his son, Thomas Cooper[2] is given as born 1688, and if so was only 17 years of age in 1705.

The next Oakley Wills, however, gives Thomas Oakley as previously in 1705, widow Burroughs widow of Edward Burroughs, she was therefore not the daughter of Daniel Whitehead who married Thomas Burroughs. There is a mistake in the names.

[4] "December 18, 1682. Then appeared before me, Mary the widow of Miles Cooper, and made oath, etc." "October 4, 1682."

Will of Thomas Oakley.[3]

m. 1757 p. 1760.

[1] "I, Thomas Oakley, of Huntington, in Suffolk County, on Nassau Island, yeoman, September 17, 1757, being weak in health, my executors are to sell land enough to pay my debts and all charges. On their management. I leave to my son Thomas, the house and orchard, and about 23 acres of land where he now lives, as his full share and portion of my estate. I leave to my wife Patience the use of all the rest of my estate, real and personal, for her support and that of my family, during the full term of her widowhood, but not longer. If she marries, she is to have one third of the moveable estate. After her death or marriage, my executors are to sell all the rest of my estate not herein given. I leave to my son Samuel two shares. I leave to my grandson, Nathaniel Oakley, so much of the proceeds of my estate as will, with what his father left him, make his full share. I leave to my sons, John, Israel, and Jesse, each one share. To my son, Wilmot Oakley, one half a share. To my daughter, Phebe Oldfield, one third of a share. I make my wife and my son Samuel and my father-in-law, John Baldwin, executors. My executors are to put my three youngest sons to trades, as they incline.

Witnesses, Thomas Davis, Elisphalet Chidsey, Gideon Ketcham. Proved before Henry Smith, Esq. Nov. 19, 1760."

"In. 1730 p. 1730.

"In the name of God, Amen. April 28, 1730. I, Thomas Oakley, of the Borough Town of Westchester, Carpenter, being sick, I leave my body to be buried at discretion of my executors. I have to my wife Abigail, a bed and bedstead, with curtains, blankets, bolsters, pillows, and other furniture, thereunto belonging, and £10. I leave to my son Thomas, my horse, and best saddle and bridle, and £5. I leave to my son Nehemiah, a mare and my old saddle and bridle. I leave to my daughter Jemima, a bed and furniture, and one cupboard which is coloured with blue, white, and red, and she is to allow the value of it out of her legacy. My executors to sell all the rest of my estate, houses, and lands, mills, orchards, and personal estate. All debts to be paid, and the remainder to my wife and my children, Thomas, Jemima, Nehemiah, Abigail, Elisha and Edward. The sons are to have their shares when 21, and the daughters when 18. The children under 14 years of age are to be put to trade. I make my son Thomas, and my brother Miles Oakley, and my friend, Jonathan Odell, of Eastchester, executors.

Will of Robert Yeomans.

m. 1761 p. 1761.

"In the name of God, Amen, March 18, 1761. I, Robert Yeomans, of Cortlandt Manor, in Westchester County, being in perfect mind. I leave to Susanna Oakley 1 bed, etc. to Sylvia Oakley 1 bed, etc. to Elizabeth, daughter of Elisha Oakley, 1 bed etc. to Robert Oakley a sheep. To Joseph Underwood, my dressed and all my wearing clothes and a piece of new cloth. My farm and the rest of my estate to be sold. From the proceeds, I leave to the heirs of Robert Yeomans 5 shillings and no more; to my daughter, Elizabeth Oakley, £20. All the rest to Elisha Oakley, Joseph Underwood, Jr., Robert Oakley, Elijah Oakley, Gilbert Dudley, Susanna Oakley, Sylvia Oakley, Elizabeth Oakley (daughter of Elisha Oakley), Stephen Oakley, and Nehemiah Oakley (son of Elisha Oakley) as they come of age. If my executors and legatees can agree, one of the legatees is to farm the farm, but so as not to injure the others; I make my brother, John Yeomans, and my son-in-law, Elisha Oakley, executors. I leave all the grain on the ground and in the chambers to Joseph Underwood, Jr., and the horse that was once Jonathan Smith's."

Will of John Oakley.

m. 1773 p. 1773.

"In the name of God, Amen. I, John Oakley, of the Borough Town of Westchester, Co., being in an indifferent state of health. Sickness to be paid, and the charge of putting this into execution, I give to my son John, as Heir at Law, £10. I leave all my real estate to my sons, John and Stephen, and they are to pay to my son James £500, when of age. I leave to my sons, John and Stephen, all sums of money due to me. I leave to my son Stephen my negro boy "Luke" and to my daughter Elizabeth my negro girl Hetty, equal to my daughter Mary a negro girl. I leave to my wife the use of personal estate during widowhood. If she dies, then my executors are to the care of the personal estate until my youngest daughter, Eustacia, is of age, and then to divide among all my daughters, except those who have had their portions already. My wife Sarah and my three daughters, who are "unmarried" are to have their living in my house, and my son James is to have a home till of age. If either of my three daughters should marry, they are to have an equal share. I make my wife and my sons, John and Stephen, executors.

Dated May 19, 1773. Witnesses, Frederick Williams, William Doty, John Hitchcock. Proved June 9, 1773."

Will of John Oakley.

"In the name of God, Amen! I, John Oakley, of the Township, Town of Westchester, &c., being in sound indifferent state of health. All debts to be paid," and the charge of putting this will in force." I give to my son John, as heir at law, £10. I leave all my side estate to my sons, John and Stephen, and they are to pay to my four daughters £500, when of age. I leave to my sons, John and Stephen, all sums of money due to me. I leave to my son Stephen my negro boy Luke and to my daughter Elizabeth my negro girl "Hester", and to my daughter Mary a negro girl. I leave to my wife the use of for-mail estate during widowhood. If she dies, then my executors are to take the personal estate until my four daughters, viz., Eunice, is of age, and then to divide among all my daughters, except those who have had their portions already. My wife Sarah and the three daughters who are unmarried are to have their living in my house, and my son John is to have a room in the house. If either of my three daughters should marry, they are to have an outset. I make my wife and my sons, John and Stephen, executors."

Dated May 19, 1773. Witnesses, Euphemia Morris, William Ogden, Tobias [illegible]. Proved May [illegible] 1773."
